

Amy:

Hey there, I'm Amy. I wanted to talk a little bit about my experience with Dr. Burgdorf and the staff at Music City Plastic Surgery. I'm six months post-op from a Breast Augmentation, and I absolutely love it. It took me about three years to make the decision to actually go through with the surgery. I'd actually gone to visit another doctor and just never felt comfortable pulling the trigger. But I met Dr. Burgdorf and his staff and actually scheduled my surgery before I left his office.

My experience from beginning to now has been absolutely phenomenal. I'm fair skinned, obviously red hair, and so my biggest concern with the surgical procedure was the scarring. I have to say everything, everything has been just right on track, right where Dr. Burgdorf said I was going to be. I just couldn't be more thrilled with where I am today, and I'm so happy that I made the decision.
