Hello. So I decided to get my breast augmentation, December 15th, 2016. It's something that I really have always wanted. I always felt like I kind of got gypped in the boob department. So when I started looking around for plastic surgeons, I definitely knew I wanted to be in Nashville. So I could recover at home where my parents are. And I just started looking through realself.com and I found Dr. Burgdorf and saw all the amazing reviews. And I went to get a consultation and I really felt a personal connection with him. Like he really was going to be there for me throughout the whole process, especially with me being a scaredy-cat, nervous about surgery. So I was really, really thankful to have someone so there for me, and felt so comfortable on surgery day, and every day throughout then what I've had my consultations and appointments post-op. So definitely I say, "If you're nervous about it, I would definitely choose dr. Burgdorf because he makes you feel comfortable. He's professional, and he'll definitely help you out with anything that you need."
