

Speaker 1:

Okay. So I am five weeks into my postop after an exhausted decision. And I am so happy that I decided to do this. Had large breasts all my life, and after four kids, I looked in the mirror one last time and I was like, "No way I can't do this anymore." Just very, very anxious and scared about the anesthesia, being put to sleep and Dr. Bergdorf and all his staff made me feel so much better about it and assured me that everything will be okay.

And I did it and I was literally in the truck, going home at 9:00 AM, two hours after surgery. I got to be one of the lucky ones who never needed a pain pill. It just all went perfect. And I'm happy and I'm going to the beach in my new bathing suit. And so anybody who's thinking about this, I'm sure there's plenty of women out there who just want to do it so bad, but feel guilty, like they shouldn't. I felt like that for years, I'm telling you do it. Your confidence will be so boosted. You will feel so much better. I am so happy. Okay, bye.
